

Of Youth And Beauty

FASHIONED BY TALENTED YOUNG DESIGNERS FROM ITALY AND AROUND THE GLOBE, THE CHARMING PAOLA C. COLLECTION BRINGS WHIMSICAL DELIGHT TO L'ART DE LA TABLE

FUSING BEAUTIFUL EXPERIMENTATION WITH

timeless elegance, Paola C.'s collection of tableware is handmade by skilled artisans and conceived by talented young designers from Italy and around the globe, under the art direction of Aldo Cibic. From an initial collaboration in 2000 with Aldo Cibic on a collection of hand-finished ceramics followed by a line of mouth-blown glassware, Paola C.'s collection has grown to include a range of inspired objects to adorn the discerning table.

Table of Delight

Serve up some whimsical charm together with your favourite aperitifs. The Piggy glass jug by Aldo Cibic delightfully rotund form was first exhibited in 2000 at the Aperto Vetro exhibition, in Museo Correr, Venice. Not only would it add a touch of playfulness to any table, it makes a lovely vessel for serving water or even sangria.

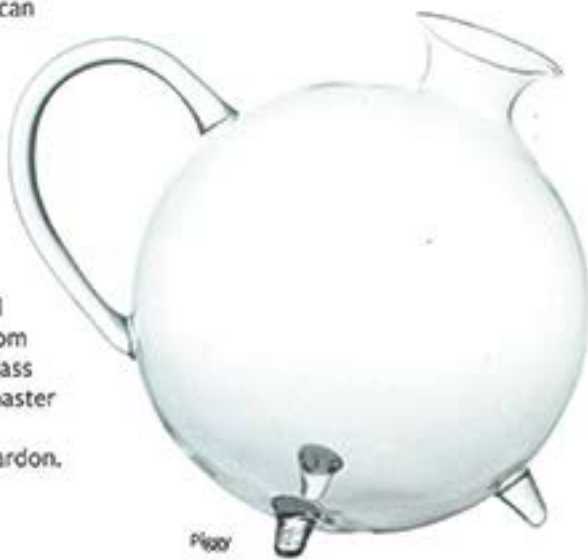

Host in Elegance

Winner of the Wallpaper Design Award 2011 as best carafe of the year, designed by Aldo Cibic the Foxy silver plated carafe has a narrow neck that curves gracefully into itself, making it ideal for filtering everything from ice to fruit slices. Pair these distinctive containers with the Phil copper-finished brass tray to bring more sparkle and shine to the table. Designed by Bijoy Jain, Phil exudes a rustic boldness. Its gentle curves juxtaposed by a long T-handle, makes it a truly refined serving of individual expression.

Luminous Brilliance

Expect no less than creative genius from Spanish designer, Jaime Hayon. His El Palo candleholder is a boldly modern take on a traditional decoration. Crafted from stainless steel and made to hold up to 30 candles, it illuminates any gathering from a convivial reunion of friends, to a romantic night with a loved one. A gentler but no less unique touch can be found in the Ambra candlesticks by Aldo Cibic, which come in low, medium and large variations and are crafted from hand blown glass by Venetian master glassblower, Massimo Lunardon.

El Palo

Ambra

Phil

Foxy